

When you say, your protector is 3000 years old Hanuman a deity! That means you want to go backwards! That means you want to live in the past, you can learn from your past. How do not go backwards! Because that is comfortable and requires less efforts, less energy and less power of thinking! Believe in something that is universal and the creator and foresee what do you want to be with the confidence. If you want to go backwards, no body will push you forward, a path of progress you have to foresee and angels will bless you with all that you need! Hanuman is NOT the creator of this universe!
