

To Settle Abroad, what it Takes!

- 1.0 Forget, what you were, where you came from, learn new attitude, and new culture, new rules to live by from day 1 of arrivals into new land and society.
- 2.0 You are an ordinary being as compared to any privileged individual/citizen of different country or culture.
- 3.0 Your education, may not be recognized and valued as that of natives in the land that you have landed in.
- 4.0 That means you may have to work, odd hours, and multiple tasks, they know, you are trying to settle. You may have to work smarter than natives and get ½ pay per hour for several years, or until you get certified, by challenging their little tricks, or study at their expensive shops or institutes run by good and raavanas, (rascals)
- 5.0 After you overcome all that stated above, there is another hurdle that is Accent, of how you speak vs their accent! This is the most difficult one. You may have to talk through your fingers, as compared to mouth to please them, with bad attitudes, not so good “mafia” type mentality.

“It’s okay to fight for someone who loves you. It’s not okay to fight for someone to love you. There’s a huge difference.”

